Non-woven Alternative to Textile Canvas

Flexart® Canvas Gloss is a non-woven alternative to textile canvas. Flexart® is cellulose-based, latex saturated and manufactured with long reinforced synthetic fibers to provide stretch and durability.

Flexart® has a bright white canvas texture to mimic traditional canvas offering consistent uniformity and is flexible enough to be stretched on a frame, making it a perfect substrate to print fine art reproductions meeting the demands for image quality and color density.

Due to the latex saturation, the product provides exceptional lay flat properties, making it a great media to use in retractable banner stands as well as in hanging signage.

Flexart® Canvas Matte is a non-woven alternative to textile canvas. FlexArt® Matte is cellulose based, latex saturated and manufactured with long reinforced synthetic fibers to provide stretch and durability.
